"There's nothing more satisfying to parents than when their child is recognized like this by a third party. As well as being confidence-building for the recipient of the award, it also confirms for the parents that maybe they were doing something right all those years! That the award comes from Siemens is doubly satisfying: I have had no end of congratulatory emails, even though most have attributed my daughter's intelligence to my wife. We are proud of Kristen and proud of Siemens".

"We are humbled by the generosity of the Siemens Foundation. To be recognized by the Foundation was particularly satisfying for our son. To work for an organization that recognizes the potential of our sons and daughters; and assists them in this pursuit of their dreams, instills both a great deal of pride and gratitude for Siemens Corporation.
Thank you!"
